The Amaroo Collection is made up of 14 designs each named after Wayne & Kae's 13 Grandchildren & their beloved dog Jude. The word 'Amaroo' is an aboriginal word, meaning 'A beautiful place'. One day when Wayne & Kae were visiting the St Kilda market, a brass name plate with the writing 'Amaroo' on it caught their eyes. Upon asking the seller the meaning behind the word, they thought it would be very fitting to mount on the wall of their home in Mulwala. In the following years, Wayne & Kae went on to purchase a family hobby farm which being such a beautiful place, they decided to name it 'Amaroo'. Further to this, Wayne completed a subdivision in Mulwala which he decided to call 'Amaroo Court'. This family court was where majority of their grandchildren grew up. Hence why it was extremely fitting for the company to carry that name through the business within the 'Amaroo Collection'.
